MONDAY EVENING, MARCH 23, 1857.

ZENAIDA-A New Book by a New Authoress .- The whole country is just now flooded with new publications of various merits and demerits. Many of them are the productions of women of our country, who seem to have been seized with the cacoethes scriben dt, and use their pens with as much facility as it has been said they were wont to use their tongues. It is truly refreshing and gratifying to find in the midst of this mass of miscellaneous literature a production of real excellence and transcendent merit, a book written for a purpose, and full of beautiful aghts clothed in the loveliest flowers of language; one that wins upon the reader by its gorgeous imagery and interesting narrative, while it fills the mind with elevated sentiments and the heart with purest impulses.

Such a work is "Zenaida," written by Miss Florence Anderson, of Jefferson county, Ky., a young and gifted writer, whose life has been spent chiefly amidst the sweet flowers and sylvan scenes she has so beautifully described. The object of the story is to portray the beneficence of woman's influence when rightly directed. In this the young authoress has been singularly successful. The lesson of pure and holy woman's influence is kept steadily in view throughout the whole book, which is in itself a perfeet flower-garden of poetic sentiment and expres-

This is the first literary enterprise of Miss Anderson. It gives promise of a brilliant and useful future in the path of literature. We have seen the production only in MSS. It is soon to be published by one of the best publishing houses in the country. We are proud to claim its gifted authoress as a resident of our own State. Hers is another nor Kentucky will add to those she has already placed upon the glowing list of accomplished and successful female writers.

FIRE-WOMAN BURNED .- On Saturday night a portion of the house of Jean Leonardi was burned, his wife so seriously injured by the flames that his wife so seriously injured by life is considered in great danger. She was removed to the Chestnut street Hospital, where Dr. Hurdley and his assistants rendered her every aid

The Sunday Democrat, in noticing this fire, assails Dr. Bryan, the Coroner, with its usual malignity, The truth is that in this matter Dr. B. is not at all blameable, and nothing can be alleged against his conduct in the affair. The unfortunate woman was taken to the Hospital, and should her burns prove fatal, it will then be time for the Coroner to exercise his official functions.

The American Church Monthly for March is full of vigorous thoughts. One article from the pen of Mr. Hudson, on "The Collier Emendations of Shakspeare," is of especial interest. Many of our readers are aware of the excitement produced in the literary world by the first publication of these Emendations, and of the controversies to which they gave rise. It turns out that Mr. Collier himself acknowledged that they have no claim to authority, and suggests that they are corrections made "from the recitations of old actors while the performance was proceeding."

The young man, Edward Langhorne, indicted for killing a fellow student of Hampden Sidney College, Virginia, has been acquitted. The results of this trial forcibly illustrates the impropriety of hasty conclusions, based upon partial testimony. From the facts as first published, though very guardedly given, the offense was looked upon as an atrocious and cowardly murder, and yet when all the circumstances have come to light, it has the appearance of an almost unavoidable and partly accidental Young Weyd, who was injured at the fire on corner of Ninth and Jefferson streets, has died, and was buried yesterday.

Those of our readers who love true poetry will hail with delight the following lines from an old and favorite contributor who has been long and strangely silent. We pray that she may not hereafter keep the bright spirit of poetry in prison in

[For the Louisville Journal.] THE POET'S CHOICE.

Aurora's milk-white horses climb the East,
Just o'er yon mountain's brow the day-God's steeds
Flash their gold manes, and shake their arching necks,
While streams in radiant mists their panting breath.
Thou, bay-crowned dreamer, shouldst not gaze alone
On all this glory. Woo some gentle one
To weave Love's myrtle in thy wreath of life!
See! Beauty's casket opens to thy touch,
Fame's petted darling! choose thee out a bride!
Look on this miniature—oh, is it not
A face as beautiful as ever bent,
In earthly worship, at an earthly shrine. THE POET'S CHOICE.

"Beautiful? Yes. Oh, radiant as a dream Of fairy land and fairies, beautiful As aught of earth can be. Her Eastern eyes Flash out beneath the broad, down-sweeping lids, And Ethiop lashes, like the storm-God's swift And fiery seimetar amid the clouds And nery seimetar amid the clouds
Which veil his pathway. Never sculptor's art
Carved from the marble such a regal brow,
Or arched the fullness of so proud a lip,
And tresses shadowy as the raven wing
Of night eternal sweep in ebon folds
O'er her white shoulders, and her rounded arms.
But love has bloomed and withered in her keart;
Its first sweet blossoms never could be mine." Its first sweet blossoms never could be mine.'

Ah! Love but kissed away the sparkling foam From youth's red wine-cup; still within the vase Lingers its richest treasure, and her soul, Strong and enduring, breasts the billowy waves of her lone destiny. Oh, she is one Grown rich with suffering, and if he were blessed Who won the girl's wild worship, doubly blessed Wert thou to win the woman's boundless love. But Beauty's casket is not beggared yet; Here is another—poet, look again! Say, is she not beautiful, whose soft, white brow, Set in its golden ringlets, looks so pure And dove-like on thee, from that jewelled shrine?

"Beautiful? Yes. But oh, the Northern hills, Now gleaming in the morning's golden light, Are also beautiful, and they may be Fit emblem for a being with a heart As icy as the frozen isles which float In the far polar seas. Like Undine, she Must win a soul ere she can form the true. Bright incarnation of the poet's dream."

Behold another! is she not a mate As beautiful as even thou couldst claim?
"Beautiful? Yes. I have no words to paint
That beauty's wild sublimity. 'Alone,' Nearest of written words, may zone with light Her history's sybil-leaves. Earth has no mate For such a soul as hers. Its Titan-throbs Echo the word 'alone,' that bitterest curse A woman's heart may know. The orange bloom Will never star the midnight of those braids, Which diadem her pale and noble brow. With the wild pining, with the feverish thirst To drink of love's sweet waters all unquenched, Her spirit's gaze will boldly dare the strange, Dark mysteries of Eternity—alone! Her soul queens mine! It cowers beneath her feet! Guardian of beauty, bid me look again.

Floats the dim memory past me. It was when O'er a bright Southern city drooped the wing Of the dread pestilence, and thick exhaled Of the dread pessioner, and three extrated A foul miasma from the unfilled graves.

Beauty sank down with fevered means to die, And manhood struggled, in its giant strength, With the destroying angel. Scarce one wail Through all that stately city's bounds uprose To tell its desolation. Stunned, and faint Vith with a distributions about rate of the property of the stately city's bounds uprose to tell its desolation. With grief's dread lightning shock, pale, trembling form Stole through the lonely streets. One sweet, sad face Was fitting, angel-like, amid the dead, The dying, and the graves. It was the same As this fair picture. Eighteen summers crowned Her gentle brow with sunshine. Luminous As the bright stars her pure and earnest soul Looked from her eyes. She was not beautiful As mortals phrase it, but I know that God And his winged augels stamped that youthful face With their own seal, and thus I claim her mine— For Time, and for Bternity, my own."

LAURA LORRIMER.

FIGHT WITH INDIANS .- Commander Swartwout, of the United States steamer Massachusetts, has made an interesting report of the engagement fought on 21st of March last, between the crew of that vessel and a band of North Russian Indians, near Port Gamble, Washington Territory. The Indians were encamped in large force, but under cover of the guns of the steamer Lieutenants Simms and Forest. with a party of twenty-nine sailors and marines, made a very gallant charge upon them, driving them from their encampment into the woods. The Indians fought with desperate courage and determination. During the whole day a fire was kept up from the Massachusetts upon the Indians whenever they were seen in the woods. The United States force had one man killed and one wounded, and the Indians lost twenty-seven killed and twenty-one wounded-among the latter one of their chiefs. The Indians sued for peace, and promised to go to Victoria, and never visit Puget Sound again.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT .- Oc Sunday, the 15th inst., a young man, named Clarke Wiley, an apprentice to Messrs. Augustus and Ben. Hall, plasterers of Lexington, was accidentally shot by a son of Mr. Augustus Hall, while the two were out bird-hunting, from the effects of which he died in about eighteen hours. The gun was defective in the lock, and required the letting down of the hammer upon the cap first for the purpose of flattening it, in order to render certain its discharge when desired. In letting down the hammer for this purpose by young Hall, the cap exploded and the gun was discharged just as Wiley passed in front of it, and he received the contents in his right side, just below the third rib.

STOLEN PROPERTY FOUND .- We learn by a teleraphic dispatch from our friend Booth, at Portland that two gentlemen of that place, while out hunting Saturday, saw a man digging in the ground. They repaired to the spot yesterday, and found buried one dozen silver tea spoons and the same number of table spoons. The initials. "L. R.," were marked on SUDDEN DEATH .- An unknown man fell dead yesterday evening on the corner of Fourth and Water streets. The Coroner held an inquest, which is reported elsewhere.

There are letters in the St. Louis post-office addressed to the following persons in this city: Manager of Theatre, A. Davidson, J. B. Alexander, and Edward Farrell.

RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

PORTLAND TELEGRAPH LINE.

Office at Portland, Delime's Drug Store, on the wharf. Office at Shippingport, in the Canal Office. Office at Louisville, Union Telegraph Office.

Up to last evening the river had risen 3 inches, making 5 feet water in the canal. At Cincinnati the river had risen a foot on Saturday evening. The Kanawha river is also rising; at the last dates it had 31/2 feet water in the channel. The weather has been warm and pleasant, but the barometer was falling very fast yesterday, which is an indication of a change.

Steamboat Accidents .- The following appeared in the Evening Bulletin of Saturday:

the Evening Bulletin of Saturday:

Loss of Steamer Belfast.—A private dispatch from Memphis, dated on the 20th, says: "Belfast lost at Island 66. Grounded there. Water left her. Broke in two." The Belfast was one of the Memphis and New Orleans packet and on her upward trip. She was commanded by Capt. Church. She was iusured here in $24,000 or $25,000, as follows: Franklin $5,000, Jefferson $6,500, Commercial $6,500, and the remainder in the agency of Delaware Mutual. It is believed there was also an insurance at Cincinnati. It will be remembered that the Belfast came in collision with the Humbodt about three weeks ago at Island 63, by which the latter boat was sunk. Although the officers of the Humboldt exonerated those of the Belfast from all blame, the underwriters had instituted or were about instituting suit against the Belfast for the loss of the Humboldt.

The Belfast was one of the largest class of boats The Belfast was one of the largest class of boats

A dispatch has since been received from Captain Church, at Memphis, which contradicts the above report. Capt. C. telegraphs that the Belfast is hard aground and in a critical condition, but that he has hopes of getting her off. He was about procuring a hell-boat.

Steamer Grand Turk Sunk .- From the officers of the Fashion we learn that the steamer Grand Turk, from St. Louis bound to Pittsburg, with a light cargo, struck a log at Cloverport on Saturday evening, and sunk. She was lying close in shore. The Shenango, which has come up, went to the aid of the Grand Turk, but could afford no assistance. The captain of the Shenango is of opinion that the Grand Turk cannot be raised, but her own captain thought that he could raise her. The water was over her deck aft and in the engine room, but the forward deck was free. Her cabin floor immediately back of the hall was raised, and it had the appearance as if the boat was hogged. About forty of her timbers were broken. The Grand Turk was a sternwheeler, owned in Pittsburg, and was insured there.

The steamer Tecumseh, which has been in the dry dock here for several days, came out last evening, and started for Cincinnati with her barge, laden with railroad iron, in tow.

The steamer Crescent, bound for New Orleans, was still aground at Portland bar at 3 o'clock last evening. She had a flatboat alongsiae of her in which she was putting some of her freight, and this, together with the rise in the river, has no doubt set her afloat ere this.

The steamer W. J. Maclay lightened the A. L. Shotwell off Flinn bar.

The steamer Northerner, in rounding out from Portland on Friday night, came in contact with the Crescent, lying on the bar, by which the N. had her gallows frame broken. She was detained at Albany till Saturday afternoon, to make the necessary repairs.

Coalboat Sunk .- A Pittsburg coalboat, belonging to Mr. McCullough, was sunk in the Mississippi river, above Memphis, on the 14th, by a lumberboat which was anchored in the river coming in collision

For New Orleans .- The splendid steamer Fanny Bullitt, Capt. Dunham, starts for New Orleans at noon to-day. The Fanny has fine accommodations and an excellent table. Capt. Dunham and Mr. Silas Field, the clerk, have no superiors in their respective vocations.

The splendid steamer David White arrived from New Orleans early yesterday morning. Her clerks have our thanks for the usual favors. The White is advertised to leave for New Orleans on Wedneslay. No commander stands higher with the traveling community than Captain McGill, and deservedly so.

For St. Louis .- The good steamer Fashion, one of the regular packets, leaves for St. Louis to-day. The F. is a large and good running boat. Messrs. Smith and De Hart, her clerks, furnished us on their arrival yesterday with copies of the manifest and nemorandum and papers.

To Mr. Vanmeter, of the Harrison Bridges, we are indebted for a copy of the manifest. The B. had a large cargo. She will return to Green river

New Henderson Packet .- The steamer Diamond which is now due from Nashville, is to run hereafter in the Henderson trade.

New Steamer .- A small sternwheeler, called the Eau Claire, arrived from Pittsburg, where she was built, on Saturday. She is intended for the Chippewa river, in Wisconsin. Captain Whipple is her ommander.

The steamer Empress, Capt. Sturgeon, left New Orleans on Friday night for this port, and the steamer Baltic was to leave there on Saturday. The Empress is advertised 10 leave for New Orleans on

The elegant building of the Odd Fellows' Hall in Lexington will soon be completed. It has been leased to Mr. William Hough, of New York (who has long been familiar with the management of the atrical companies), who will at once proceed to make such arrangements as will enable him to open it with a regular theatrical company when it shall have been handed over to him by the directors, which, it is understood, will be about the 20th of May. For that purpose Mr. Hough proposes to proceed in a few days to New York, where he will form

There are now but eight direct surviving heirs. among whom are R. W. Meade, (now before the Naval Court of Inquiry,) the ladies of Col. Graham, of the Topographical Bureau, and a son of the late Com. Dallas. If the claim be supported, these will be entitled to the nice little sum of $150,000 each.

Gov. Geary, of Kansas, passed through Ohio Thursday afternoon, on the cars of the P. Ft. W. & C. R. R., en route for the city of Washington. He is in exceeding poor health, and suffers severely from the effects of a disease of the throat. He fears a collision between the pro-slavery and free State men, and expressed his belief that, under existing circumstances, Kansas must inevitably be a slave State.

SPEEDY JUSTICE.—The negro Alfred, who killed Mr. James Taber in Fleming county, in this State, on Sunday, the 8th instant, was apprehended, says the Maysville Eagle, indicted by the grand jury of the county, tried, convicted, and sentenced to be hung by Saturday evening following the commission of the bloody deed. He is to be executed on Wednesday, the 13th day of May next.

Suppen Death .- Samuel Crawford, President of the Terre Haute and Richmond Railroad, fell lifeless Thursday morning while walking across the room at his own house in Terre Haute. He was supposed to have been in perfect health up to the time of the sad event. He died without an instant's warning. His eldest daughter had just been happily married, and was absent on her wedding tour.

DINNER TO EX-SECRETARY GUTHRIE.-We understand that the personal friends of the distinguished Ex-Secretary of the Treasury, Hon. James Guthrie, have tendered him a public dinner, which is to occur at the Gall House, next Thursday evening.

We see that Dr. Wm. T. Hord, a gallant officer and accomplished physician, who is Assistant Surgeon in the Navy, has returned to his home in Maysville, after protracted cruises on the Mediterranean and Brazil Stations.

SHOOTING CASE IN LEXINGTON.—The Observer and Reporter, of Saturday, says:

and Reporter, of Saturday, says:

Mr. John Wheeler, of this county, was shot in this city on Wednesday morning before daylight. The circumstances attending this case are somewhat involved in doubt, but it is generally supposed that the act was perpetrated by a young man named Wm. Little, a resident of this place. It seems that a difficulty had originated on the preceding evening between a companion of Mr. Wheeler, who had accompanied him to town, and a party of men of whom Little was one. This difficulty ended in a fight, in which one of the party belonging to the city (Rob't companied him to town, and a party Little was one. This difficulty ended in a fight, in which one of the party belonging to the city (Rob't Burns) was whipped. Mr. Wheeler throughout this affair acted in the capacity of peace-maker, and finally quelled the disturbance.

The parties then separated, and Wheeler endeavored to get his friend home without a further colli sion, which he seemed to anticipate. In order to effect this, he induced the man to go to a certain point on the route and there wait for him, instead of going to the stable where his buggy had been left. Wheeler then proceeded to this stable himself to procure his own buggy, and here the occurrence took place. It is believed that the party from the city to which we have referred committed the act, and that Wheeler was mistaken for his friend. Wheeler's wound is considered mortal, but the officers have not yet been able to effect the arrest of any person or persons engaged in this bloody and unfortunate affair.

A correspondent of the St. Louis Republica rites from St. Joseph under date of the 15th:

The emigration to Kansas reminds me of that to California in the days of its greatest allurements. Trains upon trains are pouring in from every quarter, but particularly from the free States. I had once thought, as I used to write you, that Kansas would be a slave State, but I am now forced to alter my opinion from the overwhelming evidences to the contrary that force themselves upon me every

Our ferryboats are busily engaged from daylight until dark in carrying over trains, and the proportion of freesoil to the proslavery emigrants is as fif teen to one. This is not confined alone to our point teen to one. This is not confined alone to our point of crossing, but it is so at every other that I can hear from, and it satisfies me that the political des-tiny of Kansas is fixed beyond all question, and that another year will fill all of her prolific plains with a thrifty population. Wars and rumors of wars she will know no more, but peace will brood over her heautiful prairies and prosperity will reign through. beautiful prairies and prosperity will reign through out her borders. I am a proslavery man, and would prefer to see my favorite institution established there; but I am, nevertheless, convinced, that the energetic, enterprising Yankee will develop the resources and build up the country sooner than we could do, and that by living in harmony with them as our neighbors they will do us no injury in our necessity. peculiar property.

are from the New York Times of Thursday:

The Persia sailed yesterday with 169 passengers and $306,335 34 in treasure. The clipper-ships Dreadnought and Typhoon sailed on Sunday last, and persons who have strong faith in the sailing qualities of the Dreadnought have made bets that with her four days' start the clipper will beat England's fastest steamer in reaching Liverpool.

The swindling of passengers bound for California by the George Law, which sails to-morrow, goes on vigorously this week. We have reported in another column a list of the victims, and shall have a longer one to-morrow, we fear. If there is any virtue in a police that costs $870,000 a year, let's have it tried on now.

The long examination of ex-Consul Fabens and Capt. Bolton, arrested as fillibusters for Nicaragua, was closed yesterday, by the decision of Commissioner Morell, that the accused were guilty of enlisting soldiers for Gen. Walker. Their case now goes to the grand jury, and the prisoners go about the streets on bail. Capt, B. was in good spirits, in view of the fact that his bail-bonds were deemed satisfactory; for going to Eldridge street jail is very unprofitable.

The Ponso brothers, arrested on a charge of smuggling diamonds, were represented by a young lady yesterday at the United States District Attorney's office as belonging to one of the wealthiest and most respectable families in Holland. The young lady pleaded hard for their release from Eldridge street jail, but the inexorable Attorney insisted on the $5,000 bail first. It not being furnished, the young men still remain in durance vile—$10 a week advaace if the privilege of the kitchen is given—to await examination on Tuesday next.

John Dean, the coachman, has not, it seems, "gone West," nor has he yet effected the liberation of his wife (late Miss Boker) from the care of her father, who, it seems, had resolved on sending her to Europe, and, with this view, attempted on Tuesday night to put her on board the Persia. But Mr. Dean was on the alert, and, by the aid of his counsel and Capt. McKee, of the Sixteenth Ward police, prevented his wife from being transported.

A gentleman just arrived from Boston, where he belongs, was set upon by three highwaymen in Breadway, near Pearl street, about 1 o'clock yesterday morning, and robbed of his gold watch and his traveling bag containing $840 in money. The Owensboro American says:

An old gentleman from Jefferson county by the zen, Joseph Funk, was drowned at Henderson a few days ago. He was stepping from the steamer Rainbow into the wharfboat, and it is supposed that just at that moment he was struck with apoplexy and fell into the river. He was taken out as soon as possible, and was not quite dead, but he died shortly afterwards, and his remains were carried back on the same boat to Louisvtlle, which place he had left but a few days previously, in fine health. RUNAWAY AND SUICIDE.—Tragic Scene on the Cars.—The particulars of one of the most unaccountable suicides have just come to our knowledge. Two servants of Mr. Jones, proprietor of Union Hall, in this city, one a yellow man named Levi, and the other black, named Allen, ranaway on Sunday night last. It appears that they intended to get on the night train for Chattanooga, but arrived a moment too late. They took the track on foot, and proceeding a few miles, secreted themselves until Monday night in a thicket. They then appeared at Antioch when the night train came along, and the yellow might in a thicket. They then appeared at Antioch when the night train came along, and the yellow man purchased tickets for himself and servant for Chattanooga. The trick was not detected—Levi passed as a white man, and took his supper at the same table with the other passengers, ordering food for his servant at a side table. The attention of Mr. Charles Fox, merchant of this city, who was on board, on his way to New York, was attracted to Levi, and after a little serutiny he recognized him. Charles Fox, merchant of this city, who was on board, on his way to New York, was attracted to Levi, and after a little scrutiny he recognized him, though disguised in a fine suit of clothes. Mr. Fox, on Tuesday morning before reaching Chattanooga, questioned Levi, and becoming satisfied that he was running away, collared him and intimated that he was a prisoner. Levi was wrapped in a blanket, and he managed to draw a pistol from his breast without the movement being noticed, and turning the muzzle upon his abdomen fired and fell upon his seat. Mr. Fox and other passengers fled in an opposite direction, under the impression that he was firing at them, and when they turned back he had drawn a bowie knife and cut his throat, and was a corpse. N. B. Vice President John Tyler was 51 and Millard Fillmore 50 years of age at the period of succeeding to the Presidency by the death of the Presidents, Harrison and Taylor.

There have been twenty Presidential elections, of which five were re-elections of the President, and fifteen persons have held the office of President, including Hon. James Buchanan. Fourteen persons have been elected Vice President, of whom three-Clinton, Gerry, and King-died in office. Three of the persons who have been elected Vice President have been elevated (by election) to the Presidency, viz: John Adams, Jefferson, and Van Buren.

IMPORTANT DECISION .- The Jackson Mississippian publishes a decision of the High Court of Errors and Appeals, of Mississippi, in a case involving the power of the Legislature to grant acts of incorporation to turnpike companies, ferries, and the like enterprises, the operations of which will interfere with the profits and emoluments arising to other adjacent works of the same kind established under acts of incorporation previously granted. The sum and substance of the decision is, that the Legislature possesses the power, under the Constitution, to grant acts of incorporation to new companies, even though their operations may interfere with the business of previously chartered companies, unless the prior charter contain express stipulations which bind the State not to grant other charters.

How to PROTECT YOURSELVES FROM BURG LARS .- A fellow broke into the house of Lewis Selye, Esq., in Rochester, a few nights ago, and gathered up a large booty of all manner of traps. Among other apartments he must have visited the cellar, for he was discovered in the woodshed next morning, dead-drunk, having found himself unable to carry a couple of bottles of Monongahela any further. All the stolen property was found about him, except the whisky.

[Special Correspondence of the Louisville Journal.] WASHINGTON, March 20, 1857. The Minnesota Governorship — Original Buchanan Men—The President Besieged, etc.

Many things are uttered with regard to the Governorship of Minnesota. Colonel Gor-man, it is said, sent in his resignation be-cause he approved of the policy of rotation in of-fice, but, on the other hand, it is asserted that he did not so declare until he was satisfied that his removal was decided upon by the administration! It is seldom the case that a man surrenders, voluntarily, so important and profitable a trust, merely from political principle. So we may believe just so much of the story about Governor Gorman's disinmuch of the story about Governor Gorman's disinterestedness as we choose.

As to Sam. Medary, his successor, it is a well understood fact that he, as the editor of the "Ohio Statesman," has rendered himself unpopular with his own party. Hence, there was no serious objection to his appointment, even by the original friends of Mr. Buchanan, for, he out of the State, the Democracy will probably move on with a little more harmony than has heretofore characterized their proceedings.

Ex-Governor Medill is still in town—and public Ex-Governor Medill is still in town—and public opinion is pretty well settled upon the point that he will succeed Elisha Whittlesey, also from Ohio, as the First Comptroller of the Treasury.

The office of Commissioner of Indian Affairs is still in abeyance. The Hon. Mr. Denver, ex-member of Congress from California, is a prominent applicant for the place. Although California is a far distant State, there are nearly as many office-seekers from it as from the almost adjacent State of New York. The troubles and schemes of the citizens of the Golden State are difficult of reconciliation. Some foreign mission will probably be given to them in the adjustment of their claims. The subject of "original" Bushanan men enters largely into the controversies; and those who went to the Cincinnati convention fully pledged for Gen. Pierce will find that they made a MISTAKE, to say the least. In fact, some of them have already suffered; among them B. F. The Solar Telegraph.—Experiments with a solar telegraph have been made with complete success in Paris, in the presence of Le Verrier, Struve, and others. NEAPOLITAN JUSTICE. — A Neapolitan subject named Ignatio Laurio, who had served in the American navy during the war of 1812, recently applied to Mr. Owen, United States charge d'affaires at Naples, to obtain the bounty land to which he believed himself entitled. Without proofs of his identity and of the truth of his statement, Mr. Owen, of course, could do nothing for him, but he advised Laurio to endeavor to obtain evidence of his service, and, in case he succeeded, promised to take the necessary steps to establish his claim. Laurio went on board several American vessels then lying at Naples, and at last obtained from the captain of the Susquehannah, who recognised him, or was satisfied of the truth of his representations, the necessary certificate of his service. The enjoyment of his good fortune, and his golden dreams of happiness in the New World were rudely dispelled the moment he New World, were rudely dispelled the moment he set foot on the shore from the American frigate. Seized by the Neapolitan police as a suspicious character (for what Neapolitan subject who was not a suspicious character could have anything to say to an American Minister and American sail. to say to an American Minister and American saintors, republicans?), poor Laurio was carried off to prison by the police, and, according to the last accounts from Naples by the America, had not been set at liberty, notwithstanding Mr. Owen's urgent appeals in his behalf to the Police Director and to the government. The only explanation he received was that of Bianchini, the Chief of the Police, who stated that Laurio had yet been expressed by the relies authorities but the Chief of the Police, who stated that Laurio had not been arrested by the police authorities, but by order of his military superior—he having been at one time a sergeant in the veteran corps—and that nothing could be done in the matter. Mr. Owen, not satisfied with this evasive reply, was resolved, it is said, to push the matter further, and if possible to procure the discharge of the innocent sailor. The incident is curious as an illustration of the personal liberty enjoyed by the subjects of the paternal sovereign of the Two Sicilies.

Great Curiosity.—In Kaufman county, Texas, near a village named Rockwell, there is a wall of rock under the surface of the earth. The wall is rock under the surface of the earth. The wall is made of rock and shaped very much like brick, say 3 by 4 inches, and varying in length from 12 to 18 inches. They are placed on the edge and only one in thickness, in a direct line and in mechanical order and running from a southeast to a northwest direction, and has been traced and found to be about rection, and has been traced and found to be about three-quarters of a mile long, where it makes a right angle. The angle or side has not been traced; therefore, what its length is no one knows. There has been a well dug by the side of this wall by some men who thought they saw signs of silver. The well has been dug thirty-three feet deep, and The well has been dug thirty-three feet deep, and has not reached the bottom of the wall, the cement or mortar getting harder as the well deepens. One other remarkable thing is this: when the wall gets within about ten feet of the surface there is a regular outward off-set of about eight inches, and then continues its perpendicular to the top of the earth. The rock is of gray color, got out by regular masons and put up by the same. There is no other rock of the same kind nearer than three miles of this mighty structure.

The Mysteries of the Law.—In Maine, at the term of the Supreme Court now being held at Portland a bill of indictment was found by the grand jury against John S. Sprague for the crime of polygamy. The indictment charged that Sprague, on the 11th of September, 1854, being then and there an unmarried man, was lawfully married to Emily M. Clark, and that afterwards, on the 4th of December, 1855, his first wife being still living, he married Rhoda Sylvia Stewart, thereby committing the crime of polygamy. Sprague's counsel stated to the court that the county attorney was willing to admit, and that the defense could prove, that the alleged first marriage was not a legal one, Sprague at that time being a married man and having a wife living; in fact, that he had three wives; but as the indictment was based upon the legality of the second marriage, which was not legal, it must fail. And, further, if the Government attempted to prove that the first wife was living when Sprague married the third one, he should object to such evidence, as there was no such allegation in the indictment. This last position being sustained by the court, the country attorney this mighty structure. should object to such evidence, as there was ho such allegation in the indictment. This last position being sustained by the court, the country attorney entered a nol. pros., and thus Sprauge, who was charged with having two wives, got clear by having

The wild man, of whom you saw some accounts in the papers, was caught last week and brought to town. He was surrounded in a sort of lair beneath a dense cluster of undergrowth like the habitation of a wild beast, and filled with the bones and skins of cats, which seem to have constituted his principal article of food. For this strange diet he had a peculiar penchant and eschewed almost every other. of cats, which seem to have constituted his principal article of food. For this strange diet he had a peculiar penchant, and eschewed almost every other. He hunted cats with an avidity prompted by an extreme voracity, and it was in the pursuit and slaughter of these animals that he was first discovered. Frequent attempts were made to capture him, but his agility and speed were such that he appeared to run upon the tops of the bushes, and fences offered no impediment to his headleng course. At length a great number surrounded and secured him. He attempted battle, but was overcome.

When brought to the court-house, he presented the strangest appearance conceivable. His height was about five and a half feet; his hair was long reddish brown and matted; his eyes large, gray and restless; his finger nails as long as the claws of a tieger; his deportment crouching—half timid, half threatening—and his garments consisted of a thousand tatters of cloths, barks, cat-skins, &c., bound together by cat-guts. He is certainly a strange being, and is literally a wild man. His age can hardly exceed forty, and yet he has lived so much away from the society of man that he has nearly forgotten his language, and has the most vague recollection of things. He remembered New York, but did not know where he was, nor the form of government under which we lived. Dr. Knode was examining him when he escaped, and it is to be regretted that the Doctor could not have had an opportunity of ascertaining the charcapeu, and it is to be regretted that the Doctor could not have had an opportunity of ascertaining the character of his mania. Without being an expert in those things, I should venture to pronounce it a catalepsy, from his peculiar fondness for that animal; though physiologists have applied that term to another widely different malady.

THE BOND STREET TRAGEDY—Highly Important Developments.—It will be remembered that after the coroner's jury had retired for consultation, in the Burdell investigation, a man giving his name as D. C. Waller, M. D., 91 Horatio street, presented himself, saying that he could corroborate the statement of Farrell. He was taken before the jury, and testified that, just before 11 o'clock on the night of the murder, he passed Dr. Burdell's house and saw a man sitting on the stoop doing something with his shoe in his hand, and he thought it singular; also, that he saw the door open, and a man at the door in his shirt sleeves.

This testimony was regarded of great importance corroborating the statement of Farrell, which, un-supported, was looked upon by many as highly im-probable.

We understand that the counsel for Mrs. Cunning ham now set up and profess to be able to prove that this D. C. Waller, M. D., is a lunatic, and has been for some years; that he was at home on the night of the tragedy in Bond street; that his family, with whom he was at that time, knew nothing of his tes-timony till they saw it in the papers, when they read it with the utmost amazement, and were deeply pained and mortified that he had conceived such ar extraordinary idea.

It will be further insisted, that they did not know It will be further insisted, that they did not know that they claimed to have any information upon the subject, or that he had been before the Coroner at all or proposed to go, until his statements were published. When Waller read Farrell's testimony, it was pretended that he was seized with the delusion that he could corroborate it, and that since the close of the investigation he has dwelt upon it almost incessantly, and thinks and talks of little else. He congratulates himself also, they say, upon being the cessantly, and thinks and talks of little else. He congratulates himself also, they say, upon being the most important witness in the case, and that by his statements, and his only, can the foul crime be traced to its perpetrator. All efforts to convince him of his delusion are unavailing.

His family have endeavored to make him remember that he was at home at the very time he professes to have been in Bond street; but all to no purpose he resisted in his assertions, and declares that

Dr. King's Dispensary.

Dr. King's Dispensury.

DR. A. KING, a practitioner of New York for the last thirty years, has opened a Dispensary on Market, bet. First and Second, nearly opposite the Graham House, Louisville, for the treatment of Private Diseases, such as Gon. orrhea, Syphilis, and all diseases of the skin and other de rangements growing out of neglect or imperfect cure. His long experience and success enable him to act with confidence. All those who may confide their cases to him may rest assured of having the disease effectually cured and every vestige of the difficulties perfectly eradicated from their constitutions.

STHICTURES of old or recent date effectually cured in a few days by an operation which causes no pain. Where a stricture exists, general derangement of the whole constitution must ensue, a continuance of which will bring on a train of symptoms to be dreaded, and will undernine the constitution and cause premature old age.

SEMINAL WEAKIESSA—Particular attention will be given to this disease and all the consequences growing out of it, brought on, in many cases, by the destructive habits of inconsiderate youth and excessive indulgence of the pasions, which undermine the constitution, rendering the subject unfit for either business or society, and causing premature old age.

EF Persons abroad, by writing and stating their cases, with a fee enclosed (post-paid), can have the medicine sent to their address, with necessary directions for using the same.

The strictest secrecy observed in all cases. Sib&iisly

LATEST NEWS.

6 P. M. 12 M 12 P. M. 7 A. M. BAROMETER. Last night, 12 o'clock : To-day, 12 o'clock.

SHOOTING AFFAIR.-Last night, a man named George Keller was shot on the corner of Jackson and Green streets. He had just left John Rapp's coffeehouse, and, coming along the pavement, a pistol was fired, the ball taking effect in his abdomen. Three men, Milus West, James McMullin, and a Mr. Clark, were arrested and lodged in jail on the charge. West says that Clark handed the pistol to McMullin, who discharged it.

There had been previous ill feeling between Keller and McMullin. Neither party exchanged a word at the time of firing. It is supposed that Keller, who is at Mr. Taylor's, corner of Floyd and Broadway, will die.

The man who died suddenly on the wharf on Sunday evening has been identified. His name was James Clark, and he was from Byardstown, one of the suburbs of the city of Pittsburg.

Police Proceedings .- Monday, March 23 .- Joseph Files had stolen a shell box from Marietta Howard, on Marshall street. Held to answer a charge of petty larceny.

Julius Martin, a German printer of unenviable eputation, was found drunk last night and using ery obscene language. Required to give bail in $300 to be of good behavior two months.

Ths steamers J. H. Oglesby, Highflyer, William Dickson, and Altamont passed Evansville this morning coming up.

The Oglesby reports that she had been detained by assisting the Shotwell, which boat had been aground.

The Highflyer is coming up on one wheel, having broken a cylinder. She will of course have to lie over for repairs.

The steamer Woodford passed Memphis at noon on Sunday. She will arrive on Wednesday morning and leave on Thursday evening.

The steamer Empress passed Vicksburg on Saturday night. She is advertised to leave here on Friday evening.

The St. Louis News of Saturday evening says:

The river at this point is falling slowly, with not more than nine feet in the channel to Cairo. The Illinois is high and in fine boating order. The Mississippi was open to Muscatine last week, and by this time it is supposed to be open above Rock Island. Missouri is low and falling, and the boats in that trade are compelled to go out with less than half loads.

St. Louis, March 23.

The Topeka correspondent of the Democrat says that at the Kansas Free State Convention at that place on the 10th and 11th, C. F. Currier presiding, the committee on the platform reported a series of resolutions stating that the people of the Territory cannot participate in an election under the census; that the constitutional convention will act without compromising their rights as American citizens, or jeopardising the public peace; that the Topeka constitution is still the choice of a majority of the citizens, and they urge upon Congress the immediate stitution is still the choice of a majority of the citizens, and they urge upon Congress the immediate admission of Kansas as a State under it; that peaceful relations between the citizens is regarded as indispensable to the welfare of the people and territory, and they earnestly appeal to all men to submit the differences of opinion growing out of the question of domestic institutions to the ballot box, providing that any attempt to impair the freedom of speech or the ballot box be held a just cause for departure from this policy; that no tests be made for membership of the free State party, save the exclusion of slavery from Kansas; that we are inflexibly determined to abide by the principles of squatter soverignty as enunciated in the Kansas-Nebraska bill.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL-For the rapid cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Whoping-Cough, Asthma, and Consumption, is universally known as the best remedy ever yet discovered for every variety of Pulmonary disease. So wide is the field of its usefulness, and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons publicly known who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried its supe-riority over every other medicine of its kind is too appa rent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate. By its timely use many, nay almost all attacks of disease upon the lungs or throat, are arrested and thus are saved many thousands every year from a premature grave. No family hould be without it, and those who do neglect to provide themselves with a remedy which wards off this dangerous class of diseases will have cause to deplore it when it is to late. Proofs of the surprising efficacy of the Cherry Pectoral need not be given to the American people—they have living proofs in every neighborhood. But those who wish to read the statements of those whose whole health has been restored, and whose lives have been saved by its use, been restored, and whose lives have been saved by its use, will find them in my American Almanac, which the agent below named has to furnish gratis for every one.

WASHINGTON, March 21. Washington, March 21.

Sickles, and many others of New York, had a long interview with the President this morning, relative to the appointments of that city and State. The door was then thrown open to the more than one hundred persons in waiting, including a fresh Maryland delegation. A large number rushed up hurriedly and put their papers into his possession, while others contented themselves with merely shaking his hand. The President excused himself, saying that he would listen to them all separately, were it in his power, but the cabinet would meet in a few minutes, and there would be before them one of the most important subjects ever brought to the attention of the government; and in this connection said he had just portant subjects ever brought to the attention of the government; and in this connection said he had just received the resignation of Gov. Geary, to take place on the 20th instant, and that time is past. Hence, he remarked, you see it is impossible for me, gentlemen, to attend to your cases now.

The following, among other officers assigned to steamer Niagara, have been ordered to report to the Navy Department on the 1st of April: Capt. Hodson; Lieutenants North, Todd, Gust, Wells, McCauley, Whiting, and Kennon; Surgeon Palmer, and Assistant Surgeons Lynch and Washington; Purser Eldridge, and Chief Engineer Everett.

Col. Wheeler, who has held the commission as Minister of Nicaragua, has recently resigned.

WASHINGTON, March 21. There was a meeting of the cabinet to-day. They had under consideration the Dallas-Clarendon treaty, and approved it in the form amended by the Senate. It will be conveyed to our minister at the Court of St. James by Alexander H. Evans, of Washington, who, as special messenger, will leave Boston for Europe on Wednesday next, and return to this country after visiting London and Paris.

The resignation of Gov. Geary was not received until to-day. The Governor was not here last night, as reported. His resignation has not been acted upon, though it will be accepted. No successor has been designated.

The principal California appointments are: Col. B. F. Washington, Collector of San Francisco; Frank Tilford, Naval Officer; Wm. B. Danbro, Surveyor, Maj. Tolman, Marshal Northern District; Elder succeeds Forman as Postmaster at Sacramento; Lester, There was a meeting of the cabinet to-day. They

How Presidents are Killed — Mr. Buchanan — The Platform Maker Beheaded, &c.

Washington, March 19, 1857. In 1841, when General Harrison arrived in Washington, he walked from the railroad station to the hotel, carrying his hat in his hand. The day was cold and raw, and at the time a slight fall of snow. The weather of the Fourth of March was not in the The weather of the Fourth of March was not in the least degree favorable to health; and yet the old gentleman stood in the open air, uncovered, while he delivered his inaugural address. He had no sooner returned to the White House than the pressure of office-seekers commenced. The Van Buren dynasty having expired, an entirely new set of applicants for place crowded upon the new Executive. He was overwhelmed, and this, together with the improper exposure of his person to the inclemency of the weather, broke him down completely, and he died in one brief month from the time of his induction in effice.

Ex-President Polk was the victim of close application to business, and within a few months from the time of his retirement from the cares of the Presi-dential station, his career of life was closed.

in one brief month from the time of his induction in General Taylor was not sufficiently patient to bear all the ills to which a President is heir. His exposure to a hot, broiling sun, in the month of July, and the pressure upon him, combined to occasion his death. A second term would, doubtless, have killed Gen. Pierce; and if he values life as do other people (and it is presumed that he does) he should be thankful that the people have relieved him from the cares of State

The business of the Executive increases with the The business of the Executive increases with the prosperity and extension of the country. Laws have been passed, from time to time, to relieve him, but these have proved insufficient. He must necessarily have a supervisory control of all public business; is consulted on every important movement, and must admit company constantly, excepting on Sunday, and listen to the importunities of seekers after place.

No one can form a proper idea of the amount of business in which he is involved. To meet all requires the strength of three man is required. The ments, the strength of three men is required. The place is anything but easy. But the honor of the station is supposed to 'pay.' Notwithstanding the embarrassments, the cares, and the difficulty of pleasing factions, etc., we all know that the Presidential office is a prize for which there will always be many aspirants.

When General Pierce came into the Presidency, a friend remarked to him that he had assumed hercu lean labor and excessive cares. "It was what I bar-gained for," he replied, "and must try to sustain the infliction."

By this time, as many here resident know, Mr. Buchanan has experienced the severe Presidential toils. Always a regular liver, in the habit of retiring at seasonable hours, and consulting his own pleasure in the transaction of business, and now in his sixty-seventh year—it is said—for being a bachelor it is difficult to ascertain his precise are—he is difficult to ascertain his precise age-he elor it is difficult to ascertain his precise age—he finds that he must alter his ways, and give audience to his friends, real and pretended, and engage in the discussions—just now concerning office—which occupy the cabinet. Yesterday it is known that he was completely exhausted—sick with the pressing business: and of this conversed freely with intimate business: and of this conversed freely with intimate friends. The mean and impatient attacks upon him by the politicians are killing him. He is physically unequal to such attentions, and there will be a fatal consequence unless the "dogs" shall be "called off."

The removal of B. J. Hallett as United States Attorney for the district of Massachusetts, (and the appointment of Charles L. Woodbury, a son of the late Levi,) is a severe blow to him, considering that he claims the merit of having constructed the Cincinnati platform. This text affords room for volumes of comment.

ondence of the Louisville Journal.] The Naval Board of Inquiry—Foreign Missions—The Appointments, etc.

WASHINGTON, March 18, 1857. It is well known that about a hundred officers of the Navy were dropped, furloughed, or retired by the action of the Naval Board, and that, subsequently, so glaring was the injustice thus practiced to-ward some of them, Congress passed an act provid-ing for courts of inquiry into those various deci-sions. A board has, therefore, been in session for a month past, and, having concluded its action in re-lation to Lieutenant Pennington, the first case on the docket, has sent it to the Secretary of the Navy for approval. But he has been so much occupied in Cabinet consultations as to have no time, as yet, to Cabinet consultations as to have no time, as yet, to act in the premises.

The next case is that of Lieutenant Meade, and which is still in progress.

In both of these a large number of witnesses have been examined as to the professional, moral, and physical fitness of the officers. Three gentlemen, in undress uniform, sit as the tribunal; a judge advocate propounds questions, and writes down the answers, while the complainants are represented by counsel. The testimony is not published in the papers, it being of a private character, affecting persented by the propers of counsel. The testimony is not published in the papers, it being of a private character, affecting personal as well as public character, but anybody who has the curiosity to be an auditor gains ready admission. One of the witnesses for Mr. Meade testifed, in our hearing, that he was warm toward his friends and bitter against his enemies—that he was a prompt and good but an impulsive officer; and, as to his physical capacity for endurance, documents were produced to show that the gallant lieutenant, on a festive occasion, drunk a large quantity of wine and other stimulating liquids, danced all night (on a foreign station), and the next morning seemed "as good as new"—fresh and vigorous. Other facts were stated in this connection to the same effect; proving beyond a doubt that, physically, there fect; proving beyond a doubt that, physically, there was no fault in him.

I merely mention these things to show the nature

I merely mention these things to show the nature of the testimony elicited in the examination. From reliable sources it has been ascertained that the administration is disposed to remember, in the patronage, prominent Whigs who, in the late Presidential struggle, came to the rescue of the Democratic party. But for the fierce opposition of the "unterrified," Senator Benjamin, of Louisiana, would have been formally invited by Mr. Buchanan to take a seat at his Cabinet board, and so of several others. It is now reported that some of the foreign missions will be filled with "Old-Line Whigs" (Democratized), and among this number are men-(Democratized), and among this number are men-tioned the names of William Preston, of Kentucky Mr. Lyons, the father-in-law of Gov. Wise, of Virginia; and Alexander Hamilton Stephens, of Georgia. With what truth I know net, but friends of the last mentioned put him down for Englad, on the ground that, for the most part, our country has been represented at the Court of St. James by Northern men, and that now it is time for the South to have nen, and that now it is time for the South to have that honor, especially as the Central American qu tion needs settlement, and as it is one which affe more particularly Southern interests. Besides there are other matters which require a Southern man for their direction. The foreign appointments will not, however, be reached for weeks to come the home offices having first to be apportioned to the clamorous applicants. The number of these is not

What has been rumored within a few days past What has been rumored within a few days past relative to the Southern feeling on the subject of appointments has been confirmed as truth, namely: that the politicians in that section of the country are opposed to the rotation principle. Colonel Bigger, the postmaster at Richmond, and W. F. Colcock, the collector of customs for the port of Charleston, South Carolina, have both been reappointed, in accordance with the wishes of their friends in those localities. And so of other federal officers. South ocalities. And so of other federal officers, South, within a few days past. Occasionally, however, some heads are "cut off," but these are exceptions to the rule as applicable to the South.

The Philadelphia appointments have occupied the attention of the Cabinet for three or four days, and may be decided this afternoon. Hundreds of Pennsylvanians are now in Washington, watching, with intense anxiety, for the result.

MARRIED,

On Thursday, March 12, by Rev. A. Shotwell, Mr. V. T. CHAMBERS to Miss NANNIE PRYOR, all of Covington, Ky. MATTINGS—200 pieces No. 1 Gouqua Matting, 4-4, 5-4, and 6-4, white and checked, received at f 23 j&b C. DUVALL & CO.'S,

PRESIDENT A. CAMPBELL.—The New Orleans Picayune of Sunday, the 15th inst., contains a notice of a religious meeting in the Christian Chapel, corner of Camp and Mel-pomene streets, conducted by Elders A. Campbell, of Virpomene streets, conducted by Elders A. Camppell, of Vir-ginia, D. P. Henderson, of this city, and President Shan-non, late of Missouri University. The meeting will be con-tinued some weeks. In reference to the terms of the arr-nouncements in the Picayune and Bulletin, of the arrival of Mr. Campbell in New Orleans, we find the following note from that gentleman, published in the Picayune of the 15th inst. It was addressed to the Bulletin, but as that paper would not be published until Monday, the editor sent it to the Picayune for its Sunday edition:

To the Editors of the Commercial Bulletin: GENTLEMEN—Allow me to thank you for the kind and complimentary notice which you gave in your issue of the 13th inst, of my arrival in your city.

I also feel very grateful to the ministers and members of the Methodist church for tendering me the use of their house of worship for Lord's day evening, and regret that it is not now power to accent?

or worsing for Lord's day evening, and regret that it is not in my power to accept it.

You have done me, gentlemen, too much honor in saying that I am the "founder" of the denomination, quite numerous and respectable in many portions of the West, technically known as "Christians," but more commonly as "Campbellites."

"Campbellite."

Any always repudiated all human heads and human names for the people of the Lord; and shall feel very thankful if you will correct the erroneous impression which your article may have made in thus representing me as the founder of a religious denomination.

With very great respect, I am yours,
New Orleans, March 14.

NEW OBLEANS, March 4, 1857. New Obleans, March 4, 1857.

Dear Sir—I feel aggrieved at the article in the Crescent of March 2d, in relation to the Courier. I have the honor to demand of you the usual satisfaction of a gentleman. I regret that my absence from the city till this morning has caused this delay of two days.

My friend, Dr. Wm. P. Williams, will arrange the preliminaries. With sentiments of the highest regard, I remain, as ever, your obedient servant,

JOHN BARTON BRECKINRIDGE.

You say "The preliminaries will be arranged at such time as may be mutually convenient. My friends will be designated hereafter."

With regard to the time for the arrangement of preliminaries, I can only repeat what I have already endeavored to impress upon you, that we desire as little delay as possible. I am compelled to leave the city this afternoon, and therefore request that you will refer me to your friends forthwith, in order that we may arrange the terms, etc., of the meeting, previously to my leaving.

I have the honor to be, respectfully, your obedient servant,

Wm. P. WILLIAMS, Esq.,

Dear Sir—I had the honor yesterday of handing you a note from my friend Wm. R. Adams, authorizing me to arrange the preliminaries for a meeting between himself and your friend John Barton Breckinridge, in accordance with his acceptance of your demand of 4th inst. Circumstances with which you are conversant, prevented my attending to this matter before leaving New Orleans. I desired and asked for a postponement of my action until our return to New Orleans, which you declined granting.

I have verbally informed you that Mr. Adams is afflicted with a defect of vision, which forbids the usual terms being named without placing him at a disadvantage that I cannot permit.

WM. P. WILLIAMS, Eq:

Dear Sir: On the 7th March, on board steamer California, you handed me a note in reply to mine of same date, nwming the terms of a meeting between W. R. Adams and John B. Breckinridge, in which occurs the following passes: sage:
"In reply, I have only to say the above terms are such as no gentleman would propose, and no gentleman can accept."

I desire to ask whether anything in the above extract was intended to apply to me personally or offensively?

Matters of a private nature have prevented me from addressing you this note earlier.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

New ORLEANS, March 13th, 1857. New Orleans, March 18th, 1857.

Dear Sir: I have received, through Mr. McCay, your note of yesterday. In reply I must say that at the moment of receiving your communication of the 7th inst. proposing very unusual terms for a meeting between William R. Adams, Esq., and my friend Col. John B. Breckinridge, I felt indignant and incensed. My answer was intended to reject those terms, and my language may have been of too positive and harsh a nature. I do not now wish you to consider it as personal.

Respectfully, your obedient servant, To Thos. E. Adams, Esq. WM. P. WILLIAMS.

DAILY REVIEW OF THE MARKET, LOUISVILLE, March 23.

The money market on Saturday was easier. Eastern ex hange continued firm at %@% prem.; New Orleans nom inal at ½ premium. In the general market there was movement than is usually the case on Saturday.

We noticed in our last report that there was a specula tive movement in clear addes, and that a Main street opera tor had purchased all affoat for shipment to fill orders. We also noticed sales of 100 casks bacon on orders, the clear sides being quoted 12c instead of 12%c, pkgs extra. We have now to report a sale of 100 casks pork-house bacon have now to report a sale of 100 casks pork-nouse bacon shoulders at 9½c packed, 60 casks clear sides at $12 20 packed, to be delivered in ten days, and 10 casks clear sides at 12½c packed, 200 kegs prime lard at 13½c, 50 bbls prime lard at 13½c, and 100 bbls No. 1 lard at 13c, all delivered at the wharf at New Albany. There were, besides, some small sales of clear sides at 13½@12½c, pkgs extra. In barreled pork a sale of 564 bbls rump at $16 50 and 220 and 25 bbls mess at $22 ess at $22.

In groceries, a sale of 300 bags Rio coffee at 111/2c, 300 bags at 11½@11½c, and about 50 bags in lots at 11½@11½c. Sales of 50 hhds sugar at 11@11½c, 15 hhds low fair at 10½, 10 hhds prime at 11½c, and 7 hhds at 11½c. Sales of 50 10 Inda prime at 11/2c, and 7 Inda at 11/2c. Sales of 30 bbls refined at 14@14/2c. In molasses, sales of 60 bbls and 60 lf bbls plantation at 63 and 70c. Rice 5/2c.

Sales of 32 lhds tobacco—21 at $8@$10, 3 at $11 55@$ $11 60, 4 at $12@$12 55, and 2 at $13 35 @$13 45. Sales of 20 bxs Holland's manufactured at 42c. Flour is quiet, and we notice only small sales at $5 30@

$5 50. Wheat $1 10@$1 15. Corn has an upward tendency, with sales from store at 60c. Oats we quote from store at 50@55c.

Sales of raw whisky at 23%c. There was some business done in mackerel, and we notice ales of 385 pkgs, of which 15 bbls medium No. 2 at $11 50, 150 do. hf bbls at $6 25, 20 bbls large No. 3 at $11 50, 100 150 do. If Dole at $6 25, 20 bolls large No. 3 at $11 30, 160 bbls medium No. 3 at $10 50, 50 hf bbls do. at $5 75, and 50 qr bbls do. at $3 75.

Sales of hay from the wharf on Saturday at $21 $7 ton.

Freights unchanged. River rising.

CINCINNATI, March 21, P. M. Provisions are dull and in very little demand, but ther is no essential change in prices which, however, are to a great extent nominal; mess pork is saleable at $21, bacon sides are offered freely at 11c without buyers, bulk meats are neglected and prices nominal, nothing transpired in lard. Flour market opened with a good demand but closed nominal under the news from New York at $5. Whiskysales of 1,400 bbls at 23%c. Clover seed has declined to $7 25 and timothy to $3, and both dull. There is an active demand for spring barley for seed, with sales of 2 000 bush at $1 52@$1 55, and $1 60 has been obtained in some cases. Groceries are unchanged.

New York, March 21, P. M. Cotton firm-sales of 5,000 bales, with more buyers than sellers. Flour unsettled—sales of 10,000 bbls at $5 55.66 10 for State which is a decline of 5c $\text{B}$ bbl, Ohio and Southern have advanced 5c, with sales at $6 40@$6 70. Wheat unsettled—sales of 6,500 bush at $1 69 for white and $1 50 for red. Corn heavy—sales of 38,000 bush. Provisions firm.
Pork is firm—sales of 1,400 bbls at $24 for mess, $19 for prime, $16@$16 25 for repacked Chicago. Lard steady at 14%c. Bacon firm at 11@11%c, hams 11%c, shoulders 9%c, and dressed hogs at 18c. Butter 18@21c. Whisky 25%c Sugar buoyant. Coffee firm at 10%@11%c. Freights have advanced. Stocks are dull. NEW ORLEANS, March 20.

Cotton market firmer-sales to-day of 5,500 bales, sales of he week 41,000 bales, receipts last week 33,500 bales, receipts less than last year 5,000 bales, receipts at all Southern ports less than last year 163,000 bales. Coffee continues steady at 11%@11%c, sales for the week 15,500 bags against 40,000 same time last year. Sugar is firm. Flour is steady. Pork buoyant at $23 50. Lard is buoyant at 15c for kegs. Freights-cotton to Liverpool %d and to Havre 1d. Exchange on London 83/4.

March.—During the past ten days the position of the market has not materially altered, with, however, a withdrawal of many Southern orders, owing to depressed rates there, and an apparent solicitude of several holders to meet the present rate of 12% cents for cash payment less discount, indicated by sales of 900 bales, mostly landing at the above figure.

The shipments to New Orleans since the 1st of February, and the present freight engagements, are unusually heavy, being not less than 9,000 bales. To other ports South, 3,000 bales.

GUNNY BAGS.—With considerable arrivals, and proportionately less shipments for the past two months, our stocks are increasing, while prices have not varied from 10½ @11 cents during that period. Owing to the high cost of the article, and diminished shipments at Calcutta, holders seem firmly to maintain prices, and sales have lately been made to the extent of about 2,800 bales, at 10½ @11 cents.
